

Being one of the largest alcoholic drink producers in our country, we are just humble keepers of the centuries old secret recipes passed on to us from the previous generations of spirit-makers. Hence our passion for excellence is not just our philosophy - it is a commitment to our heritage. So, whether you are an entrepreneur seeking for new business opportunities or a customer wondering about novel products, our promise to you is satisfaction, as history itself shaped and perfected the taste of every drink we produce. But it's not just about the taste, it is about the story that each of our drinks carries within...

a story inside

1858:

Count Ignatyeff, the Adjutant General of the Russian Imperial Army, establishes the distillery. That's when the "Kalkuni" story begins.

1991:

Latvia becomes independent. Six years from now the factory will pass into private ownership of Joint Stock Company "Pallada".

1890s:

The popularity of "Kalkuni" products spreads across the boundaries of the entire Russian Empire. After the consumer recognition comes the official acclaim by the industry representatives as evidenced by numerous awards at exhibitions in Moscow, Riga, and Saint Petersburg.

1999, 2001:

Bronze prizes at the International "Riga Food" Exhibition.

2004:

As Latvia joins the European Union, the products enter European markets with successful partnerships in Germany and the UK.

1918—1940:

During the period of the first Latvian Republic, the distillery passes into private ownership of Karyakin, a well-known entrepreneur of the time, who continues to build on the good name of the factory.

2008:

The acquisition of "Kalkuni" distillery by the LLC "Trevors" marks the beginning of a new era in the distillery's history. Complete renovation of the factory, from the refurbishment of the factory buildings to the installation of the brand new manufacturing equipment allows the company to continue its strong high quality spirits-making traditions....

1941—1991:

The Soviet era. The factory gains state-level significance, supplying spirits to all corners of the entire USSR.

...and so the story goes on.

Private Label

Marc de Richy

The result of another cooperation, became a liquor «Marc de Richy». We turned to an old recipe of Canadian artists, having a unique drink with a pleasant, unique and smooth taste. The basis for the liquor was imported from Canada in oak barrels whiskey, and also absorbed by the earth and the sun's energy honey, collected on Latvian apiaries, which gives the drink a pleasant aroma and unforgettable taste. This drink will make your story even better!
